PREFACE.

The Directory of Catholic Colleges and Schools, now published for the first time, realizes in part the aims of the Department of Education. It also represents one phase of the service for which the Bureau of Education was organized.

The Department of Education under the National Catholic Welfare Council was established by the Hierarchy at the Conference held in Washington, September, 1919. Its purpose, as set forth in the Pastoral Letter, is "to study the problems and conditions which affect the work and development of our Catholic schools."

At its first meeting held in Chicago, February 2, 1920, the Department adopted a resolution to prepare and publish a Directory, and placed the work in charge of the Secretary, Rev. Dr. James H. Ryan.

At the second meeting of the Department held in Chicago, October 20, 1920, Dr. Ryan submitted a preliminary report, showing the plan and principal features of the Directory and explaining the method which had been followed in obtaining the necessary data. The report was adopted and the arrangements made for publishing the Directory were approved.

The primary object of the Directory is to provide information regarding the work of our Catholic schools. This volume shows at a glance what is meant by the Catholic educational system—the number and variety of our institutions, the activity of our teachers and the statistics of our school population. These are facts which give a comprehensive view of what the Church is doing in educational lines.

Such information is of value, in the first place, to those who are immediately concerned with the work of our schools,—to teachers, pastors, superintendents, heads of colleges and superiors of religious communities. It enables them to form an adequate idea of the organization and growth of our educational system, not in one section only but throughout the country. The fact that so many agencies, institutes, and orders of men and women, each with its special characteristics, are enlisted in the common cause of Catholic education, must deepen the sense of solidarity and lead to more earnest cooperative effort.

As a work of reference, the Directory should be useful to a considerable number of persons who are interested in education though they have no special concern with Catholic schools. It supplies information which hitherto has been obtained with some difficulty, through numerous inquiries and not always with the highest degree of accuracy.

In the work of compilation, valuable assistance has been rendered by those in charge of our colleges and schools, and particularly by the Diocesan Superintendents of Schools. Acknowledgment is due also to Messrs. P. J. Kenedy and Sons, publishers of the Official Catholic Directory for permission to use some of the material collected by them.

J., was elected Chairman of this Joint Committee and Rev. Francis W. Howard was elected Secretary. Howard of Columbus was elected Executive Secretary of the new Association. The constitution, after revision and approval by Archbishop Messmer, was finally adopted at the Milwaukee Meeting in 1907. The Conference publishes an official organ, "The Catholic Charities Review." (subscription one dollar a year.) It has also published an extensive list of pamphlets on social problems. It has in preparation a directory of Catholic Charities. The Conference supplies information in regard to the activities of various Catholic institutions and organizations.

INTERNATIONAL FEDERATION OF CATHOLIC ALUMNAE.

The International Federation of Catholic Alumnae is a Federation consisting of Alumnae Associations of Catholic High Schools, Colleges and Universities. It was founded by Miss Clare I. Cogan and Mrs. James J. Sheeran, with the permission and blessing of James Cardinal Gibbons, late Archbishop of Baltimore. It was organized in New York City, November 27 to 29, 1914, when representatives of 102 Alumnae Associations from all parts of the United States and Canada met and undertook the work. The purpose of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae is to bring into communication the various distinct Catholic Alumnae Associations of this country and Canada, for the purpose of upholding ideals of Catholic Womanhood and to formulate plans for the extension of Catholic education, Catholic literature, and Catholic social work. The organization is of State and Province Chapters, which in turn organize City circles. The Federation has a Biennial Convention. Every affiliated Association is entitled to a delegate and an alternate.

PENMANSHIP AND SPELLING COORDINATED

Palmer Method Spellers

Palmer Method Penmanship. There is a separate book for each grade, present to pupils for visualization all words in photo-engraved words as they appear when written in the most extensively taught, add most justly popular style of handwriting.

Because the words in the Palmer Method Spellers are all in Palmer Method Penmanship, they eliminate the unnecessary process of changing the printed impression to the written expression. The words for the Palmer Method Spellers were selected by well known educators after having been thoroly tested in one of the largest and most progressive New York City Public Schools.

In the Palmer Method Spellers for the intermediate and advanced grades are quotations in liberal quantities from well known authors—all in photo-engraved Palmer Method Penmanship.
